

2016 ALAS $10,000 AND $2,000 SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

Sponsored by:

Curriculum Associates®

As the Latino population continues to grow in the United States, the need for more Latino school system administrators is greater than ever. By the year 2025, it is projected that Latino children will make up 26 percent of the school-age population. Latinos are the largest minority population in the country; however, the number of advancement opportunities for aspiring Latino school leaders is disproportionately small.

ALAS is offering a $10,000 scholarship and a $2,000 scholarship this year thanks to our partner Curriculum Associates who is sponsoring the ALAS scholarships for the second consecutive year.

ALAS recognizes Latino administrators for their leadership by providing assistance toward an advanced degree in education. The top recipient will receive a one-time $10,000 scholarship award and the runner-up recipient will receive a one-time $2,000 scholarship award. The scholarships will be made payable to the recipients' institution of higher learning and the recipients will be presented the award during the Awards Banquet at the 13th Annual ALAS Education Summit in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on Friday, October 14, 2016.

If you are an aspiring Latino superintendent currently enrolled in, or have been accepted into, an advanced degree program in education in a college or university, take advantage of this opportunity to secure a scholarship.
