

Executive Director of Multilingual Education

Looking for a rewarding and impactful career in education? Look no further than Denver Public Schools! We are seeking an experienced and passionate leader to join our team as the Executive Director of Multilingual Education. As the leader of this team, you will have the opportunity to make a significant impact on the education of our multilingual learners, by ensuring they have access to high quality learning experiences and opportunities that are culturally and linguistically sustaining.

At Denver Public Schools, more than 200 languages are spoken and nearly a third of our students identify as multilingual learners. As a district that centers multilingualism and multiculturalism, we are committed to ensuring that each student has access to learning experiences that advance their interests and challenges them across their ECE-16 experience. In addition, we must provide the guidance, resources, and training to support instructional experiences that further advance literacy skills and content knowledge in each student's native language while students acquire language and content in English. It is also critical that our students have access to opportunities to honor their multilingualism, such as attaining the prestigious Seal of Biliteracy.

To excel in this role, the ideal candidate must exude a deep understanding of designing and implementing effective bilingual programs, experience as a senior leader in an urban school district, and capacity to work collaboratively with a variety of stakeholders. In return for your hard work and dedication, we offer a competitive compensation package with an annual salary of up to $146,000, generous time off, and comprehensive benefits.
